

WARMBURG HOST TO L.F.C.

NEW EQUIPMENT FOR BROADCASTS PURCHASED

First Broadcast
Oct. 3 Over
Station WOI.

Having purchased its own broadcasting equipment, Wartburg will broadcast half-hour educational programs over station WOI on Saturday at 4:00 p.m. over radio station WOI throughout the year.

These programs which will originate from the Wartburg hall are to be transmitted to station WOI by telephone. Wartburg college has purchased the necessary equipment in order to have programs available to the public. The equipment ordered includes one 45M Wollens remote portable and one 45M Wollens studio unit and that it may be transmitted to the radio station by telephone. In addition to this two RCA 88A pressure microphones, one pair of headphones, two portable microphone stands and one pair of trim phones have been purchased. The purpose of this equipment is so that the engineer may hear the program in the studio over the telephone as it sounds over the radio. Because all the equipment is remote portable, it will be possible to broadcast programs also directly from Convocation hall or the gymnasium.

The program for the first broadcast, Oct. 3, over WOI, frequency 850, is as follows:

Music—Lewellyn Hock, Dredewon, "How Could I Fail Have Shunned."

Address—President Braulick.

Flute—Arthur Becker, "Second Movement From D Major Concerto to Mozart".

Greeting song from a freshman and senior.

The announcement, Professor Hafner, will make his own script to introduce the name of the speaker. The engineer for these broadcasts will be Professor Aardal.

On their broadcast, the National Broadcasting company and the Radio Guide magazine presented the chorus with trophies.

PUBLISHED BI-WEEKLY DURING THE COLLEGE YEAR
Entered as second-class matter October 15, 1935, at the post office at Waverly, Iowa, under the Act of March 3, 1893.

SUBSCRIPTION RATE — $1.25 PER YEAR

Freshman, Can You Carry the Load?

Responsibility is a big word with a big meaning. It is so big, that many people hesitate to shoulder it because, at times, it presents a burden of immense proportions.

Paradoxically, I am asking those among us who, in the midst of a new environment, are meeting new work and often undergoing exasperating treatment from veteran students, must be the least able to undertake an additional burden to shoulder a great responsibility.

Freshman, are you willing to accept the burden of keeping the name of the Wartburg student body worthy of the tradition which Wartburg bears. Namely, that of being a Christian college.

I know, I am not casting reflections on those of us who are upperclassmen. I am merely considering the fact that the freshman class comprises two-fifths of the student body and must necessarily carry a tremendous influence here at Wartburg in every way.

Christianity is not merely attending church, chapel and religious convocations. To be a Christian you must have Christ. You must know Him and He must dwell in your heart.

Freshman, do you know Him? If you do, you are a blessing to Wartburg. If you do not, you are a detriment to the institution. Either you know Him or you don't. Either you are a Christian or you aren't. There is no middle-of-the-road course.

No one can look at a group of students and pick out the Christian—that is true. But freshman, the life you live here at Wartburg will indicate whether you are "standing up for Jesus" or betraying Him.

That is the responsibility you carry. To live Christian lives that will be a blessing in the college, an influence for good among your fellow students, and a light to hear witness for your Savior and your God.

T

Do You Appreciate Student Government

President is always important. George Washington as our first president realized this fact and was very careful that the new American Constitution and government should start out right—that its influence should be felt and appreciated by every citizen.

The Wartburg student body has a new constitution and a new government which is just beginning its initial year. As the years 1789-1790 were crucial years for the American government, so will the years 1940-41 be very decisive in determining whether our new student government will be efficient and effective in the student body.

We believe that our student faculty members appreciate this and support the new set-up in every way. If students do not bring their problems before the senate, if faculty members do not entrust the student members of the student-faculty council with certain responsibilities and cooperate with them, if the government as a whole is not utilized in all its capacities during the coming year, it will become a mockery and a government in name only.

"Ave" Schumacher, our last year's president, and those who followed him, did their best and sincerely of their efforts to bring about this new set-up. We can't afford to mock their efforts with indifference. As you love Wartburg and all it stands for and hopes to be, get behind the new government and boost it.

Let's Add Another Tradition

A pet idea among many students and faculty members on the campus was finally given birth and a hand in the last Luther League meeting—namely, "Let Wartburg write and produce a Reformation Day play to be put on annually and to become a Wartburg tradition." The character of this play is to be such that it will creep into the heart of every student to whom Luther and his valiant associates are heroes; who think of them as knights who fought for Christ, knowing that God is on their side.

We all know the challenge of fire, the trial by fire, the ring of that grand old Reformation Day song, "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God." That song has become a tradition for every Lutheran on Reformation Day. How wonderful if Wartburg might have a play of its own to become a tradition tying

SENIORS

"Andy" & "Buds"

RCA does not only stand for Victor, but for that man of the strong subconscience and unscrupulous Christopher Columbus. He says many people call him "Andy" or "Bud," but he would rather be called "Andy" or "Bud." He says he doesn't worry very much. Rudy was born in Conover, Minn., on April 9, 1919. He attended high school in Waverly, Minn., and Lambertson's. It's inevitable—Minnesota. Andy's taking a pre-course which shows his interest in tennis, golf, swimming, and English. He already is a German major, but other than that he doesn't care too much about sharp distinctions to him. (No list please). He has a long list of things he likes to do—play tennis, tennis-hike, go up-country, go to the beach, go up-country books. (Whatever these may be). He makes a cause distinction by saying he has more interests than hobbies. He has made himself famous for his activities in intramural basketball. Present society president, drama club member, president of the senior class. His pet pieces are "pre-line" cribbers in Christianity. Rudy considers the intramural basketball team was very partial to A. This may be a bit confusing to first year students, but it's true who's who in the senior class makes perfect sense. Rudy also pointed out the similarity between RCA and CAA.

You know which is the Senioritis but this is what is President. Rudy was born in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, on Feb. 19, 1918. She married through high school in Pleasant, Iowa, in order to attend Wartburg. She comes from a long line of newspaper people which accounts for her interest in journalism. Her major is business administration and her minor is English. She is a member of the semi-classical music, historical bicentennial, novels and murder mysteries in literature. Her interests are very few, but she enjoys tennis. "Tough and long" at the theater, radio, amateur advertising, radio, writing, and arrangement in convocation know who she is? Emilie Janice Black.

The group joined heartily in singing the hymns, especially when they commenced a favorite Bible verse or one which held a special significance for him. The meeting was closed with a prayer, and the group concluded in singing, "Blest Be the Tie that Binds Our Hearts in Christian Love."

The Prayer-Fellowship met in Wartburg hall at 4 p.m. Andrew Albrecht was in charge. Plans for the coming year were discussed.

The Prayer-Fellowship will meet again Sunday, Sept. 29, at 4 p.m. in Wartburg hall. The study of God in the "Simple Details of My Life" will be the topic of discussion.

Hock Bookstore Manager for '40-'41

Llewellyn Hock of Strawberry Point, Ia, is our new manager at the book store this year. He will be assisted by his wife, Dorothy, and his son, Harry.

The new schedule was announced by Hock as follows: Open daily Monday through Friday from 7:30 to 9:45; 10:15 to 11:45; 1:00 to 2:05; 3:10 to 4:30. On Saturday the book store will be open from 9:00 to 1:00 p.m.

PERFING EYES STUDY HOMES

Recently a case with sixteen eyes received treatment for the first time in this country. The eyes were brought to Waverly from various parts of the world. Waverly is a residence district. The eyes belonged to Mrs. Hodgman's Housekeeping class who were studying and solving house extensions.

The girls in the year group, Charles Reimert, president; Ruth Bressler, secretary-treasurer; Esther Meyer and Arnold Wader, both seniors, informed our college to a fortress from which it takes its name, and which meant so much to Martin Luther 400 years ago.

A resolution has been sent to the English department asking that it cooperates in writing such a play. Every student should be proud to help in such a production. History majors, Dramatics club members, English majors, everyone, writing and producing a play that will make the spirit of that Wartburg castle of the sixteenth century ring in the halls of the Wartburg of 1940.

LIVING CHRIST FOR WARTBURG

Walz, Drewsow

Present Topics at Prayer-Fellowship.

With "The Living Christ on the College Campus" as their theme, thirty Martinites gathered at 4 p.m. on Sunday, Sept. 14, 1940, when the discussion was led by a group supported by the group lounge in a circle around the bonfire on the river bank. After a few introductory remarks, Rev. Dr. Carl W. Voelker of St. Paul as to the history and meaning of the Prayer-Fellowship, the group joined in an informal discussion.

The theme, "The Living Christ on the College Campus and in the College Community," was discussed in the meeting. "Scripture Reading on the College Campus," "Prayer-Sessions on the College Campus," "Prayer-Sessions for the Christian Life" and "Prayer-Sessions in the College Campus and in the College Community."

Scripture Reading and Prayer. In Wartburg Walz put out another one of his pamphlets entitled "Scripture Reading and Offerings." A number of suggestions to help in Bible study and interest in the study of the Word of God.

In the discussion, the group contributed further opinions and suggestions. Irene Dwelley discussed the importance of prayer and how it is played in the student life noting how it permitted us to personally discuss our problems with God and how that can be accomplished through prayer if we ask it for the direction of His name.

Witnessing for Christ.

Llewellyn Hock presented some comments on "Witnessing for Christ on the College Campus and in the College Community." The meeting was opened with a singing of hymns and a reading of the New Testament.

The group joined heartily in singing the hymns, especially when they commenced a favorite Bible verse or one which held a special significance for him. The meeting was closed with a prayer, and the group concluded in singing, "Blest Be the Tie that Binds Our Hearts in Christian Love."

CHRISTIANITY INSTRUCTORS OPEN MEETING

Discuss Religious Problems Presented by World Situation.

The teachers of Christianity in the Lutheran colleges opened their sectional meetings Tuesday evening with a spirited discussion of the question "What Special Element in the Teaching of Christianity Should Be Emphasized in the Present Year?" Professor Edgar Carlson of Gustavus Adolphus college, St. Peter, Minnesota, presented the paper on the question. Although no definite statement was made by the author, the title of the individual citizen to his government was especially discussed.

What Would Be the Content of and the Approach to the Study of Religion in the Freshman Year of College?" was discussed in a paper presented by Miss Carrie M. Anderson of Luther College, Waverly, Iowa. A diagram prepared by Miss Anderson and presented to the group indicated that there was a wide divergence in purpose, content and method of approach in the freshman Christianity course as taught in the twenty-five schools that had reported to questionnaire sent out by Miss Anderson. The discussion of the paper, however, was limited in spite of the wide divergence the ultimate goal of the course was the same in all cases, namely to present Christ and teach him to others about him and as awaken in the heart of the student a Christian consciousness and a living faith that alone can bring basis of a true philosophy of life.

The following reports were read and discussed: "The Syllabus of the Lutheran Colleges for the Academic Year" by J. P. Pfeifer, Pacific Lutheran College, Parkland, Washington; "Biography of Books on Christian Education in the Lutheran Colleges" by John Hiltner, Wartburg College, Waverly; "Should We Have in Our Lutheran Colleges a Course in Christian Leadership? If so, What Might the Course Properly Cover?" by Norman M. Anderson, Associate Minister, First Lutheran Church, Waverly; "Should We Have in Our Lutheran Colleges a Course in Christian Biography?" by Carl W. Meyer, "The Course Properly Covering Theology," Hargrave, St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minnesota; "Should We Have in Our Lutheran Colleges a Course in Christian Ethics and Controversy? If so, What Might the Course Properly Cover?" Martin Hegland, St. Olaf.

Their fellowmen of North Hall joined the Knights in the quest of getting outfit.

At 10 o'clock in the home of President Brudnick and Professor Schaefer the Knights of Wartburg were defeated. The Knights celebrated the victory by buying vines and buttering sandwiches.

The field of play for the day was the Wartburg Gun Club. Here knight of old Wartburgers participated in various sports. A popular feature was the delicious food served by the ladies.

After enjoying a day of fun food and fellowship, the students gathered around a hall to enjoy the music of band and song. Finally weary Wartburgers returned to the campus with many pleasant memories and mosquito bites as reminders of another evening in the strong.

Back on the campus in the late evening found the students again sleeping in as in the early morning. However, this time the scene was Wartburg Hall instead of Grossmann Hall and in the place of "Outfit" came Knights and Knights were whispering sweet "good nights."

WARTBURG'S WINCHELL

Again I take over this column and attempt to bring you some of the gossip of the campus. I serve due warning now to keep your secrets to yourself or fear of the "spill" of your news.

We see the same of the very thick affairs of last year have been broken during the summer months. New ones are quietly sprouting up to take their places. The girls in the reception room in Wartburg Hall will show great progress in some cases.

I've often wondered what powers of enchantment that one Schick has that the rest of us lack. He enthralls the majority of the Wartburg set as "Outfit".

We understand that several fraternities are interested in getting into Wartburg. Not all of us know just where the rules and all homecoming. Not to mention any names, but I suggest Mr. Schumacher spend a little more time at the Ambassador.

Suggestion number one for the year, let's not forget the Wartburg students ever get a chance to enjoy them as they are seldom in condition. The girls in bad shape should be reward with the money needed to keep them in condition. They would then be useable for a much longer time.

It certainly is nice how "Outfit" helps the young affairs along. The year is young and we enjoy the attentions of the fellows as much this year as ever—although I didn't happen to see a reception of "Outfit" Wartmann's method as I did last year.

We're in the army now, love it or not. Wartburg's hope, Pudge Gamblers may be called with the National Guards if we hope not.

We welcome C. C. Ven-Dike and Prof. Torquist to Wartburg. Cough has been busily working with the Wisconsin Miners and we wish him a lot of luck. We also hope that Prof. Torquist's health will recover last year's record.

We observe a cooling of the love affair of one Doe Bunge and one of Waverly's favorite daughters.

That tough Law assistant, Edna Oberman tells us he's going to turn student this year even though his heart is in Moline, Ill. It's too bad "Giggles" couldn't realize her real name is Nightengale.

We understand that he and Doctor Schaefer have the Biology students really worried—Oh hum, what a laugh!

An open letter to the girls—Harold Oberman, Wartburg's prospective Backfield star, is anxiously awaiting his first date.

I might suggest asking E. A. Schick the meaning of the song "Day and Night." He ought to know.

With this I close my first sendal sheet. Wish I could dip some of the dope through the censors, but I'm sure you understand. Until the next issue I remain your ever dutiful correspondent—Goo-bye and thury.

Coed Chatter

It's much too nice a day to be in here pushing a typewriter, but I'm not so bad.

And have you heard the names the boys have for the girls? "Doe," "She," or the song the girls have for Grossmann Hall?

Not bad their Royal Highnesses, the girls have . . . but not "butches," especially Red's pretty . . . but if that's the way he wants to be, and wouldn't Onite look cute with one?

Did someone say something about a vacation this week? If so, then why are so many people staying here because as they tell it they have so much work to do and so few opportunities? Or maybe the profs thought of that when they made the assignments.

There should be a few clean rooms in the dorm, at least among those upper classes, who with all the freshies are put to shame lately. It must be nice to have such powers of control over others as to make us worship you like it . . . want'd there war fought over that once? . . . Oh well, only twelve more months and the freshies can do it . . .

Aren't You Glad?

That the interest rate is going in effect is not coming home to roost in that case.

We think it's one of the big boys to dump you in the pool fellows. You poor things! Hope there won't be any pneumonitis developing as a result.

What would certain girls do in that case?

From time to time we hear random thoughts ("I hear always") I hear Wartburg, the professors—especially Oberman in history, the source of the fountain of knowledge.

Run the hot piano, and his cooking . . . the freshies' green caps . . . the boys . . .

Will initiation be like that? Will they really forbid freshman inter-dating? . . . oh me, what will the poor things do in that case? . . . but state appellationism—but who wants to do or do they . . . ?

The football boys are pretty nice we hear . . . on the whole.

They look so tall and strong and bold and brave . . . or something in the like.

Did Duke really get kicked in the head? Anyways it's cute don't you think? . . . Pudge broke into print the other day looking like Sir Lancelot.

Can't wait for the first football game.

Why don't they eat an elevator in the girls' dorm for the benefit of those who live on third? Or give us more time between the last class and the dinner bell. The boys are having a lot of fun with the buzz in the girls dorm.

Only why don't they learn to make their rings more distinct to avoid getting lost? . . . or to mistake someone else's ring for your own and come rushing down all aglow for the wrong number.

We know . . . Mail time . . . wonder if I'll get a postcard . . . or two . . . or even a postcard . . . Do you suppose Hugie reads all the post cards? Must be kind of interesting . . .

Wartburg hall . . . the smell of popcorn about ten o'clock at night. Bumpers ringing all the time from six to ten (wish one was for me) girls in curlers and slippers wandering from room to room looking for food . . . the gab sessions . . . watching girls dress for dates . . . trying to find a hair clip to match my dress . . . or a pair of socks . . . alarms ringing all over the place in the morning . . . radiators . . . the tantalizing aroma of Mrs. La-Bahn's dinner at noon . . . Russ, here we come . . .

Must we have any more MORAL victories?

That Bunge's heart is broken? Or is it?

Then the weather these evenings is such that the river bank is not very accommodating?

Freshies, that you are so green? That last year's seniors are never here than, to whom it concerned?

Must we not have any more MORAL victories?

Then the weather these evenings is such that the river bank is not very accommodating?

Freshies, that you are so green? That last year's seniors are never here than, to whom it concerned?

Must we not have any more MORAL victories?

That there's a war in Europe? That we only have three home football games this year?

That we feel so good?

That they haven't got escalators in Old Mass?

DR. BODENSIECK INSTALLED AT SEMINARY

Rev. Mutschmann
Delivers Sermon
at Installation.

Dr. Julius Bodensieck was installed as president of Wartburg Theological Seminary by Rev. E. E. Mutschmann, chairman of the Board of Regents, and Dr. J. M. Klemm, president of the Wartburg Wisconsin district and Dr. J. M. Reiter, acting-president of Wartburg Seminary, on September 25, at the Sept. 5, in the Seminary chapel.

Rev. Mutschmann, delivering the installation sermon, spoke of the divine nature of the call received by Dr. Bodensieck and of his assurance that this brings in his response, Dr. Bodensieck referred to a paper he presented at the meeting of the Wartburg Faculty and professors of New Testament Theology and explained that his views expressed in that paper were not of choice. He added, "I addressed on this occasion to a listing of his principles which he pledged himself to follow and which I believe are only partly principles of Wartburg Seminary but of the entire American Lutheran church.

In past years Dr. Bodensieck has been editor of the Kirchenschatz, editor of the Wartburg Kalendar, editor of the Lutheran Herald, and Chairman of the Board of Christian Higher Education.

He is well known in Waverly as a former student at Wartburg and a teacher. In addition he has served on the faculty of both Wartburg and Capital University Seminaries and has served as pastor in St. Paul of Calvary Lutheran Church.

Dr. Bodensieck was born in Lemnitz, Germany, July 19, 1894. Here in America he attended Chicago University and Wartburg Theological Seminary, graduating in 1917.

GRADS OF 40, ALL STILL BUSY

Reporter Checks
Up on Recent Wartburgers.

Twenty-three of Wartburg's last year's fifty graduates are in America's army of teachers. Thirteen of the fifty have been seminary work; two are taking additional courses, training future housewives. Lorraine Fekete is teaching the Marx and Johns of Goose Lake, Iowa. Helen Johnson is teaching science at Beemer. Sigmund Sandrock is taking oral service between Dubuque and Waverly for Bill Weiland and Lew Bohm. Dale Mathius is taking more courses at Wartburg; Eleanor Gross, the English teacher at Clinton, Iowa, is at the University of Iowa; Helen Theodor Schulze, Herbert Schauer, Raymond Koeniger, Martin Leesenger, Nannie Auer and others are teaching at Wartburg Seminary, spending most of their time studying; Clarence Pries telling Bandits about the "Goodness" and Kappenberg at Onida and Emmons at Fort Dodge are teaching in the public schools.

Father—And a Wife.
Who would have imagined Raymond Nodurff, lording it over the faculty of the Wartburg Seminary, married a Pipino at Capital University in Columbus, Ohio, with a wife, Delta, prior doing graduate work at Grinnell? His son, Dr. Harold Kalle, teacher in Pacific Junction, Emmanuel Klemm, undeterred by the fact that his father was a professor, did not dare apply for admission to the seminary, but the year he got there, his father was Waverly, or Edwin Kramer superintending the Naper, Ill., radio system.

Did anyone expect to find these people so widely scattered?

Religious Convocation Ushers in New School Year

President, Student Pastors, Faculty Members Speak.

According to custom, the school year was officially opened with a religious convocation in the Wartburg Auditorium. This morning, Sept. 12, Pres. T. J. Brueck addressed the student body and faculty at the meeting, his topic being on the third chapter of the second book of Corinthians, "that we may be living uprightly." He said,

The speaker pointed out three definite challenges which future life holds for everyone: first, is the challenge to live a life of justice to all; second, to be true friends, to serve our country to the best of our ability, and to be at all times living uprightly.

Our immediate life at Wartburg according to Pres. Brueck, demands our loyalty to our country and our demands of efficient scholarship on the part of every student. In return we may expect an understanding cooperation of the faculty and council in a sound, Christian moral atmosphere.

In His Honor Leads.

On Friday, Sept. 13, Dr. J. Hiltner, chairman of the faculty committee on religious activities at Wartburg led the students in a service of fasting. The student body with regular Friday matins services.

Dr. Hiltner again led the devotion on Monday, Sept. in the topic of his address being "Wartburg's Religious Program." He said that the school is not Wartburg is primarily a Christian school and as such offers a variety of religious activities and a strong religious program. These are courses in religion required of every student daily charged hours in the dormitories conducted by the full-time spirit, religious convocations three times a week, and the many religious societies on the campus.

Fireside Club.

Craig C. VanDyke, a newcomer to the Wartburg faculty spoke at the first student convocation this morning on Sept. 19.

Scholar Delegates Plaz.

A Christian gift of white silk with the appropriate red seal emblem was presented Friday, Sept. 29 during the convocation period. Rev. R. C. Schlueter, student pastor, spoke at the occasion, opened his address with the following words: "Our school is a gift from our spiritual masters. We are here to make them happy. We are here to make the atmosphere here a Christian one. Are you a Christian? No?" A student who had just reported out will point the way of Christ and will say, "That's how to be a man or woman?" The priest said purpose of Wartburg is to develop real men and women. In order, then, to get the most out of the school, a student should take advantage of all the spiritual opportunities it offers.

Student Members Speak.

A study of several missionary hymns was presented to the student body Monday, Sept. 23 by Prof. H. E. Kunkel. He also invited Reginald Huber, from Greenlawn's Icy Mountains' and Dr. Samuel F. Smith's "The Star-Spangled Banner" is Britain's national anthem. The latter is also known to be known by one of our great national hymns, "America."

Dean G. J. Neumann used the time of the Sept. 24 convocation period for explanations and reminders concerning new rulings in regard to absences, the right to be absent, and the like. The greatest unemployment today is above the case," said Prof. A. L. Swenson in addressing the students Wednesday, Sept. 25. Using the story of the Message to Garcia as a theme he said, "The right to be absent is the prime objective of every man to be loyal to a trust, to act promptly, and to concentrate his efforts to carry out all tasks in the best possible way—honestly and unquestioningly."

Prof. Swenson then applied these thoughts to the high school. All make good sports and good scholars out of every student.

Poets' Corner

Greetings to Wartburg

Wartburg freshies, from the classes.
From the lads and all the lasses
You'll find them really lots of fun,
So if you meet us in the hall,
Or meet us anywhere at all,
We'll greet you with a friendly
"Button, freshy"—you have no choice.
So just be quick to gently tap
The door of the dormitory room,
And drop your books and bow the while.
And let the upperclassmen smile,
Aye, far better than you do.
And carry books and so forth, too.
You'll have more fun at our swell school.
Without ducking in the pool,
Cheer up! you, too, may some day pass
And help initiate a class.—Soph.

PRAYER

Our Father, we find thy light,
And lead us through with thy might.
Help us thy grace to do and give
To all who truly have faith. For we
Our sin help to forgive all those Who do us wrong; protect our foes!
Guide us to conquer every fall;
Protect from sins both great and small. Amen.—Richard Bunge.

STEPPING STONES

Live each day as if it were
And banish care as evening does.
Let no man of your year
Leave the dormitory room.
Why live for mere existence?
Or bathe in stagnancy?
It's a little like a river's
Life, set to a song.
Know the harm of interference.
Know the bruise that harshness
Can give.
Know the woes of living.
Learn them and mark them well.

Sorrow is the thief of life.
The murderer of the soul.
Yet, by its darkest clouds—
How shines the goal! —Frederick Everett.

The article which contains 19 references, four from Germany and one from Canada—will appear in the final report of the committee findings.

LUTHER LEAGUE OPENS MEETING

Reformation Day Plans
Announced; Bodenbeck
To Give Address.

The Luther League met in the gymnasium for its first business and social meeting of the year on Friday evening, Sept. 29, with 37 members present.

Business meetings were held by Erwin Wals. The president called the meeting to order. Vernon Hauff was reelected secretary and the regular officers are elected in October.

An invitation to attend the Valley Federation rally at Ankeny, Iowa, on October 10 was accepted. It was also agreed to contribute to the evening's program as asked by the hosting town.

The League was informed that Dr. Bodenbeck of Wartburg Seminary had been secured as speaker for the rally. The speaker because of the radio broadcast on our campus on Reformation Day, was asked to speak and not to hold up the program as formerly planned.

It was decided to send a representative to the English department meeting that night. Wartburg play may be written which could be given repeatedly.

Discussion as to offering prizes resulted in the decision to postpone until next year.

It was voted to form a committee to speak to the administration regarding the dormitory's price.

Entertainment following the business meeting was under the sponsorship of the committee consisting of Marvin Kampfe, chairman; Florence Senn, Alberta Smith, and Vernon Hauff.

The refreshment committee, Rachel Brownson, chairman, Ruth Brownson, and Gilbertus Guss Spiehler, and Gibson Mervin served pre-dinner and coffee.

The next meeting of the league will be a short special meeting to be held at the church on Saturday, Oct. 10, for the election of the remaining officers and the advisors.

A nominating committee consisting of Esther Weiss, chairman; Lila Rock, and Luther Meyer has been chosen. This committee will nominate two members for each office. Others may be nominated from the floor.

Senate Appoints Committees for '40

Student senate committees have been appointed by the student executive committee for the coming year. The various student senate committees are an auditing committee, a constitution committee, a senate program committee, an organization committee, and a pep committee.

The finance committee consists of Bruno Weiss and Otto Dene, Rudolf Andersen, Leo Drewelow, and Marvin Kampfe to make up the senate finance committee.

The program committee is Edna Oberhauser, Ann Aardal, and Edwin Schick. The organization committee consists of Otto Dene, Bruno Weiss, Rudolf Andersen, and Rudolph Brahmholz. Jamie Hughes, Pauline Brahmholz and Ernest Heist are on the pep committee.

These committees will stand until the senate throughout the entire school year.

Grossmann, North Halls Organize

This men's dormitory was organized during the past week. Grossmann Hall held its election Monday evening while North Hall met to elect officers Wednesday.

Edwin Oberhauser was elected chairman of North Hall and Edward Schick was chosen as secretary-treasurer. Win Waldegrave, Gis and Richard Wagner as councilmen.

The grossmann selected nine men from the three upper classes as council members. They are as follows: Vernon Mohr, Rudolf Andersen, and Carl Rohr, seniors; Vernon Stenskrook, junior; Bruno Benge and James Behrens, juniors; Ewin Franke, Oswald Johnson, and Carl Wick, sophomores. These men will meet in the near future and elect officers of the council.

Finds Torture of Registration Not Futile.

The Hitler Hawk

When George Petersen finally finished out those multiple forms and handed in his registration papers, the office force decided that everybody was there and started digging into that huge pile of paper, and tried to make a little sense out of all the facts. Figures, names, numbers, and what not, so rudely written out for them. A few days ago, the smoke began to clear away, and the following facts about Wartburgers were revealed.

There are 241 of us enrolled at Wartburg this year. 150 men and 91 women. Of the 241, 116 are freshmen, 69 are sophomores, 44 are juniors and 21 seniors. It is interesting to note that out of the 241 seniors, we find a total of only 16 girls.

Almost one-third of the student body has come from a distance of over 100 miles. Of the 241, however, twelve take the record by having come over 2000 miles to attend Wartburg Way on the strength of their parents.

The American Lutheran church claims 137 of us; other Lutheran churches 30. Thirty belong to other churches.

Wartburg claims no church affiliation at all. Out of every student, 100 percent are planning to teach and the rest are scattered among various professions.

Of the 241 students, 166 are living in the three dormitories, 37 are living with relatives, and the remaining 42 are living with the townspeople of Waverly.

Probably the most unusual bit of news about registration is that Elmer Beckman enrolled—both of him!

Campus Busy Place During Vacation, Reporter Finds

Buildings Undergo Repairs and Paint; Shrubbs Donated.

No one who visited the college campus during vacation would seem to say "nothing is going on and nothing is done." Let us just look at the facts to prove this. First that Wartburg was so full during these months we were so anxiously waiting for college to begin.

Luther hall was almost completely redecorated. Some shades were repainted, while most were replaced with new ones. Thanks to Dr. Dill, who supervised the extensive work in this building.

The Old Main entrance was painted and the second floor ball and the stairways.

Grossmann's halls were completely redecorated and all the washrooms received a new coat of paint.

Venetian blinds will now greet your apparel in the Wartburg and reception room. The rooms and beds were completely repainted and repaired.

In North hall, rooms and wood-work were painted and the base-ment was cleaned.

Kitchen Restored.

Our chefs kitchen was completely re-painted. Part of the ceiling was removed and a new ceiling. The entire kitchen was repainted and now has a covering of blind insulation over the entire floor. The new kitchen is built for our stainless steel dish washing which will arrive in the near future.

The gymnasium floors also came in for its share with a good refinishing job. The shower rooms were improved and given a new coat of paint.

All floors of every building on the campus were refinished.

Faculty Homes Repaired.

Our faculty homes also received special attention. Professor Lienhoeh and Mr. Pritchett's house was painted on the exterior. Student houses were painted by Mr. Pritchett did this work.

Professor Lienhoeh volunteered his help and painted his house. This was the only help received from the college for the necessary paint.

Professor Heile's house was also refinished. We are grateful for the fine work furnished there also.

Our president's house received a new addition in the form of an enclosed back porch. The bases and walls were stuccoed on the inside.

Campus Improved.

Last year the senior class donated $1000.00 to the college for the purchase of shrubbery and ornamental trees. The planting of these will begin in the fall and a great deal more will be done.

We are greatly pleased to announce that the class of 1940

The college road between first and second avenues along the east campus has been paved.

All these improvements, besides many minor repairs, certainly keep Wartburg workers busy. We are deeply grateful to all those who served and worked on committee and to everyone who helped our college make so many improvements. Students, too, have been greatly assisting in our college in keeping our campus and buildings in the good condition they are now in. What do you say, Wartburgers?

DUB'S DIARY

R. E. W.

Thus, Sept. 30—Was very much honored to learn that it was to have a special place in the journalistic enterprise of Wartburg. Did then and there resolve this heretofore unimportant matter that I have a name and a news item that will be caught up but an honest man himself and to my honor. Did visit the annual assembly of the Wartburg Corporation and did see the little brothers and sisters as they laboriously plowed through their papers to see if they will fit in, temporarily at least, on the morrow even we expect the classroom would be subject to the same diabolical influence.

Wednesday, Sept. 31—Did leave for the main building with the thought that the task would be an easy one for an experienced upperclassman, only the mere formality. Did realize that five hours later I had staggered out thoroughly humbled.

Thursday, Sept. 31—Did get my first taste of chancery, but with extreme satisfaction that it was no great chore to expose myself once again to the written word. Encountered by the female teacher, Did solemnly resolve therupon to devote my leisure time solely to the study of the art of composition. Did exude entirely from my realm of thought the sweet smiles and the kindly glances of the fair co-eds.

Friday, Sept. 30—Did move with extreme caution. I did, however, screw up sufficient courage to attend the Wartburg Masters' masque to consider myself as a member of the Wartburg choir. Did study.

Saturday, Sept. 30—This day was spent in the grocery store, the penning groceries in the biggest little grocery store in Waverly. 11:30 did find me stranded in the Wartburg dormitory with a case of Waverly with a certain anticipated Ease suffering from this first day. Did quieten some of this first day.

Sunday, Sept. 30—Did attend the very excellent Prayer-Festival this afternoon. After an inspiring program around the theme of "God's Kingdom" the sun did shine but still kept behind distant horizon, and the dark shades of evening cast enough upon us, however, to make our favorite hymns. Twice later the near full moon did look down upon our hillside and reveal weathered pine trees to have come to life with a fair card at my side. Farewell honorable resolutions!

Monday, Sept. 30—This p. m. did attend student body meeting and did hear to the reading of new and stricter regulations concerning the use of tobacco, alcohol, and beer. Did not care for this, however, did console myself with the thought that this year was to see certain improvements in my conduct anyway.

Tuesday, Sept. 30—Everybody was to be here. We were going to have another meeting, however, even did nothing except wait. Wartburg's Knights did, however, undergo a very thorough physical examination by a few medicines of the ton.

Wednesday, Sept. 30—The horrible rain did not dampen spirits, however, the sun did appear a bit ominous. I did loan myself to the knights and knighted them with joyousness to the great grooms, and did spend a very pleasant and enjoyable day frolicking in the sunshiny outdoors. Did participate in our first play of the day with the usual post-outby hangs over. Nevertheless, feel thankful that I did not get lost in the crowd around the various booths.

Thursday, Sept. 30—Did have a break this a.m. with a sigh of relief. Did display a pagan streak that even by withholding the name of the author of the article, did not stop the meeting. The Luther homecoming meeting, and did mostly feel the pang of conscience for to do wrong. All looking forward to coming to a spiritual exercise during the week-end.

Saturday, Sept. 30—This first day of autumn did truly feel as though it was the first day we have had for many a week.

Sunday, Sept. 30—Due to the fact that many fair friends did not come to the Wartburg homecoming meeting, did not do much wrestling for a time that day with the cryptic Greek conjugation. The outcome was a tie-breaker. However, did do quite well in time and Prayer-Fellowship. This even I did take me to Luther league at St. Paul's. After a jolly evening of devotion and fun, I did wend my tonsils around a huge half cantaloupe filled with ice cream. Methinks I shall attend again.

Monday, Sept. 30—On this memorable day I did actually and indeed receive a piece of mail in post office which had nothing but dust. I was very satisfied, but dust was very satisfying.

Tuesday, Sept. 30—Did try to train my weakening brain cells all this glorious a.m. trying to prepare a speech for the fourth homeroom. Did not do too bad, but did not do too good either. Still, I did manage to graduate a monogram with the next class meeting. The 10th homeroom, however, did come already yet! This p.m. I did accidentally and unintentionally damage my typewriter for a typewriting class. What am I going to talk my way out of this? Methinks it just means that no more of my hard-earned dollars finds its way to Papa Coffey.

Wednesday, Sept. 30—A woman who guested at pep meeting. Methinks our old alma mater is finally uncovering real spirit in our organization. Also, the Senior Knights show the same pep when they undermine the Miners on Saturday.

Thursday, Sept. 30—Did watch many kind people and a woman who gave up this camp as though it were Christmas already. Knowing that she was not the only one injured, did not let this stop me from realizing that we are being favored with a day and a half of vacation which I did not deserve. Did get a chance to catch up on my sleep which I may have lost this past week through being made to work a few hours by some unsympathetic professor.

Friday, Sept. 30—This day between stages at the printer's did find me that I did not go to another week-end campaign in the east.

DR. PODENSKER TO MEET THEOLOGICAL STUDENTS

On the afternoon of the Reformation Day holiday Pres. James Bodensteiner of Wartburg College will speak to as many as possible of Wartburg's pre-theological students. The speaker will present problems or questions in regard to the Seminary. Any pre-theological student desiring to interview Pres. Bodensteiner privately should see Dr. Hiltner to arrange a time.

PI SIGMA

For the first time this year the girls of Wartburg college gathered together for a formal meeting. On Saturday, Sept. 30, the Pi Sigma gave the freshmen and sophomores a tour of the girls dormitory. Those on the entertainment committee were Irene Drewek, chairman; Florence Sorenson and Dorothy Clegg.

The refreshment committee was headed by Nelda Corrigan. Her helpers were May Egger and Ruth Larson.

The guests were treated to a unique program. During the course of the evening no one was asked to say "I do" nor "Yes" or "No" either for or against marriage. If this was done, the girl had to forfeit one of the ten beans that each was given at the beginning.

ring of the evening. At the end of the evening Miss Delta Nelson did still hold in her possession the greatest number of beans. Anja Aardal entertained the group with a solo and a duet with her mother, Esther Weiss. Pres. Pi Sigma then gave a welcome speech for the newcomers.

After more games and stunts, refreshments were served.

W. A. A.

Meeting in Wartburg hall Tuesday night, Sept. 29, the Women's Athletic Association selected the following officers for the coming year: Rosalie Brownson, president; Clarence Morris, vice-president; Margaret Schlueter, treasurer; and Ruth Matthews, sports manager. Pres. Brownson said the women's activities are very good. It is the aim of the W. A. A. to participate in a great many activities that will bring the women closer together. Every Wartburg woman who is interested in any phase of athletics is welcome to join this club.

FOOTBALL HOPES HIGH, FROSH LOOK GOOD

25 Players Work Out Under New Coach, Van Dyke.

With 12 members of last year's football squad and with as promising a crop of freshman talent as ever landed on the Wartburg campus regularly working out under the direction of C. C. Van Dyke and his able assistant, Henry Koob, the Wartburg football horizon looks bright with the best started road of hope.

Heading the list of experienced football players are Richard Wagner, Treynor, Iowa; and Rudolph Langholz, Waverly, Iowa, both of whom will serve as co-captains of the 1940 edition of the Knight gridders. Langholz is the leading returning player on the Wartburg team, having missed the 1939 season through an injury. Wagner has been calling signals from the quarterback spot.

Louis Fabrizius, Waverly, Iowa, has been used in the other tackle position; Lowell Bergmann, Waverly, Iowa, and Raymond Schafer, Greene, Iowa, have guard berths on the tentatively first eleven.

Petersen Returns.

The late arrival of Marvin Petersen, Rockwell, Iowa, has done much to brighten the outlook of the coaching staff. The Becker twins, Fon du Lac, Wis., are also experienced end men. Fred Scherle and Carl Stabenow, both from Eureka, S. Dak., are respectively competing for tackle and halfback positions. Lester Beaman, Dodge, Iowa, and Edna Mueller, LeCenter, Minn., staying for guard and quarterback positions respectively, complete the contingent of veterans on the Knight roster.

Freshmen Look Good.

Heading the list of 13 freshman football players is Rudolph Langholz, Waverly, Iowa, a long-distance hard plugging fullback from Cedar Falls, Iowa. That he is a player of considerable ability is proved by the fact that he was given a berth on the Iowa prep all-state football eleven last year.

Regularly occupying a halfback position is Harold Oberndorf of Eureka, S. Dak., another highly touted prep star. He was regarded as one of the best backfield men in the western part of the state last season.

Playing the other halfback position is Clarence Bergmann, Waverly, Iowa. Clarence had a record of 6-0 with Watt Koob, undrafted and unlisted of '39, and was an all-conference choice. Bob Benck, Worth, Ill., and Richard Landwehr, Ashton, Iowa,

CO-CAPS WAGNER, LANGHOLZ LEAD KNIGHT SQUAD

This year Wartburg has the advantage of having two leaders of high football fortune. Co-captains Rudy Langholz and Richard Wagner are two of her most popular seniors. They have been top notch players for two years and should be able to give newcomers and the squad important help and lead that all-important team spirit.

Rudy Langholz.

At 180 pounds, Rudy stands six feet at 200 pounds and pulls the tape to over six feet. He had no high school football experience before the sport was dropped from his curriculum at Rudy's old school. His athletic ability was shown by the fact that he played four years of baseball and three years of basketball at school. When he enrolled at are both up and coming men for the end assignments.

Carl Stabenow, Reedburg, Wis., has been assigned the center task for the first eleven while Don Brownson, McGregor, Iowa, has the same job on the second string.

Don Herron, Marquette, Iowa; Norman Kolbe, Fairmount, N. Dak.; and Carl Stabenow, Wunderman, Tripp, S. Dak., are all seeking berths on the back field.

Fred Mueller, Wissel, N. Dak., and Kenneth Morrison, Oelwin, Iowa, both freshmen, complete the list of football aspirants.

Wartburg has earned a football letter the first year despite his lack of experience. Since his first letter he has improved steadily in speed and strength in football. At his line position Rudy has always been a thorn in the side of the opposing team by running the point, blocking backs, and even splitting the ball carrier for a loss.

Captain Wagner.

Slightly smaller, Richard Wagner holds down the scale to 165 pounds. He lacks the height of being six feet tall. Like Rudy he did not have the benefit of high school experience but also won his first football letter in his first year of high school baseball and basketball. This year he will probably play on the football team as well. This year he will probably play on the football team as well as the quarterback post on the football squad. In previous years he has played the end and guard post as well as accounting for the break place to be filled.

Since coming to Wartburg "Rich" has played on the football team every year except his first year playing on the baseball squad. He is known for his ability to take hard knocks, particularly to the head, yet continue to play. In the game when he spite of a bad bump on the head he continued playing his stellar defensive game for the Knights.

Besides standing in athletics Captain Wagner is also active in other lines. He holds the office of president of the "W" club and is the acting president of the Science club. Freshman in 1939, he is from Waverly, Iowa, his home town. He is a senior majoring in mathematics and wishing upon being graduated to teach and coach in high school.

COACHES AND CAPTAINS HOLD CONFERENCE

C. C. Van Dyke, the newly appointed coach at Wartburg college, comes to us with a very interesting record. For the past five years Mr. Van Dyke has been coach at Edgerton, Minn., where his football team was undefeated last year. Before coaching at Cedar Falls, he taught for five years in Edgerton, S. D., and for one year in Reinbeck, Iowa. He received his B. S. at the University of Illinois and his M. A. at New York University, after which he served for one year as director of the Athletic club at Fort Madison, Iowa.

C. C. Van Dyke remarks that he likes very much the enthusiasm and spirit shown at Wartburg, especially by the boys out for football with whom he has been working for several weeks.

BEHIND THE VARSITY

WITH E. A. SCHICK

Eager, expectant, a trifle tense, we stand upon the threshold of a new school year. To some of us it is just another school term. To most of us, however, it represents far more than that. Friends, it represents a new era—a new era in football. The time of long-drawn football glory is at hand.

With bated breath we ask each other, "Will the Knights be able to do it this year? Will the Knights be able to remove the long despised football defeat?" An unfeeling answer is "yes." Another answer: It is not going to be an easy task, but my optimistic contention is that the Wartburg gridiron will be equal to the assignment.

A new spirit of hard work and cooperation, a new coach with a remarkable record, and a splendid bunch of old and new players all tend to make this the new era for Wartburg.

Cochran as Head Coach.

Coming to Wartburg as the heralded leader of a new era in Wartburg's athletic history, C. C. Van Dyke will do his best to guide the destiny of the Knights. He is supported by a splendid press corps, a fine home base, and—what the players call him—head coach. He is a whole-hearted support of every athletic enthusiast on the campus. When we hear him talk and see him give everything he has for a greater and better team, we cannot help but let him know that we're all behind him, that our hopes and wishes are with him.

Let's Have More Music.

The local band, it has to be admitted, has become a very fine organization indeed. But room for improvement can still be found.

The band is expected at local contests and has added much color at such performances, but something was lacking. That something was uniforms. Funds have now been made available for the purchasing of new uniforms.

Let's get those uniforms as soon as possible. Let's really add that important something to our games by having a real band cut out there.

Would a marching band be too far-fetched an idea? Especially majors or majorettes could certainly be uncovered somewhere on the campus.

Homecoming.

On Oct. 12, Wartburg's annual Homecoming celebration will again take place when the Wartburg Knights sally forth to compete with the Penn Quakers from Oscawolea.

The Quakers are no new enemy for the Knights. Two years ago Wartburg took a 12-0 beating at their hands in a Homecoming game. Last year, it will be remembered, the Knights obtained a 6-6 tie from the Buena Vista Beavers at Homecoming.

But not all has been gloom. Three years ago war Wartburg romped over the Wisconsin Miners 28-0 to make Homecoming festivities a complete success. We can do it to the Quakers, too, can't we?

Musings.

Coach Van Dyke used a rather surprising bit of strategy when he switched Captain Wagner from a guard to a quarterback position and Raymond Schafer from a full back to a guard spot.

The late arrival of "Pete" Petersen certainly did much to boost the end posts . . . The Becker which is which twins are as much of a scream as ever. Harold had the nerve to ask spectators for nickel to view a huge hump on his shin . . . It feels great to see the Oberndorf brothers lateral and alternate at running for the defense during scrummages. Harold does a good job of it.

That plodding fullback Pudge Camarata really packs a wallop. In case you don't know it his real name is Lavenue. He calls himself Pudge because he was once put in a class with girls. The teacher thought the monicker belonged to a fem.

There is on the squad one "Windy" Wildermuth. If you don't know why they call him Windy listen to this. He said that once after eating a rather heavy meal he consumed the liberal quantity of two dozen bananas for dessert . . .

We would certainly like to get Van Dyke and Ottersberg together once. To listen to Van explain football techniques and to Gerhard explain the history dates would really be something for the audience.

Concats to Waverly high for their 29-0 victory over New Hampton. The Go-Hawks looked great. The Iowa conference was opened when Central beat Western Union 28-20. Incidentally, Western Union is our first home foe.
